Supplementary figure 2 Longitudinal serum levels of adrenal androgens; DHEAS (A) and Δ4-Androstenedione (Adione) (B), BMI (C), sum of four skin folds (D), height (E) and height velocity (F) according to age in healthy boys. The 44 out of 90 boys whose onset of testicular growth > 3 ml could be tracked were divided into quartiles according to age at testicular volume > 3 ml: The boys with earliest age at PH2 (the 1st quartile) are illustrated with red lines, the 2nd and 3rd quartile with grey lines and the 4th quartile with black lines. Each line represents a child.