Baseline serum cortisol as a predictor of 30-minute cortisol levels during an SST:
Baseline serum cortisol is graphed against the % likelihood of passing (specificity = continuous line) or failing (sensitivity = dashed line) the SST.